YOUTH ACTIVITIES

While the grown-ups quench their thirst for knowledge, the kids have fun and develop their abilities.

Sports and Science Challenge Day Camps
(in cooperation with various faculties and PEPS)

Weeks of July 4, July 11, and August 8, 2016

Ages 12 to 14

The Sports and Science Challenge Camp (three one-week sessions) lets kids experience a variety of scientific and sports activities. Hands-on workshops in the afternoon give campers a chance to satisfy their interest in and curiosity about science. Mornings are devoted to sports activities.

INAF Day Camps

Aliment’Terre: An Adventure Served Up on a Platter

Weeks of July 18 and 25 and August 1 and 8, 2016

Ages 10 to 12

Aliment’Terre is a day camp that sends kids out on an adventure based on what we eat—from the garden to the kitchen—as they explore foods and where they come from through playful and enjoyable indoor and outdoor workshops. Counsellors are energetic students qualified in nutrition, agronomy, and food science and technologies. Organized by the Institute of Nutrition and Functional Foods in cooperation with the Roger van den Hende Botanical Garden.

French Immersion Program in Québec City!
at Collège Saint-Charles-Garnier

July 3 to August 5, 2016

Université Laval will play host to a group of 400 students from around the globe for a five-week French immersion program in Québec City. Monday to Friday students attend classes from 8:30 a.m. to noon and participate in a variety of on-campus activities in the afternoons. Since it is an immersion program, they are required to speak French at all times.

Information and registration: www.garnier-international.com

OTHER COURSES

Regular summer courses

May 2 to August 15, 2016

Université Laval offers some 1,300 regular courses on campus during the summer semester. These courses can help you progress in your university program or explore new fields. Summer sessions vary in length from 1 to 15 weeks depending on the courses chosen.

Starting March 23, 2016, you will be able to select the “Summer 2016” option on the advanced course directory search form to view the courses on offer.

Distance Learning

Year in, year out, some 150 distance courses are offered in various fields during the summer semester. Most of these courses run for 11 weeks, beginning in early May and ending around July 20, 2016.

Whether you want to enrich your general knowledge, upgrade your skills, or obtain the university degree you’ve been dreaming of, choose Université Laval for distance learning and:

• Take advantage of a wide range of courses and programs
• Balance your studies, work, and personal life with ease
• Write exams in your home region

The list of courses offered will be available online in early March. Visit www.distance.ulaval.ca to learn more about the advantages of distance learning and how courses are given.

Agreement with Bureau de la coopération universitaire (formerly CREPUQ)

Under this agreement, regular students enrolled at a Québec university (the “home school”) can take one or more courses at another Québec institution of higher learning (the “host school”) as part of their program of study. For more information, visit www.crepuq.qc.ca
USEFUL INFORMATION

Short-term accommodation at Université Laval residences
Québec City’s best value in accommodations

During the summer (May to August), Université Laval’s Residence Office has many rental rooms available to Québec City visitors for short-term accommodations. Short- and long-term packages are convenient, affordable, and designed especially for the summer schools. Packages are available for our standard dorm rooms (shared bath) or our superior rooms (private bath).
